Suit of Anna Gatton vs. Bank of Guilford for Possession of Mare and Mules up Today.

In the case of the Townsend Wholesale Grocery Co., vs. the Chamberlin Canning Co., with the State Bank of Anderson, interpleader, the jury yesterday found for the Townsend Grocery Company.

The verdict of the jury follows: "We the jury find that at the time of the institution of this suit the interpleader, the State Bank of Anderson, was not the owner of and was not entitled to possession of the proceeds of the sight draft mentioned in the evidence," Frank Clayton ,foreman.

This suit is an outgrowth of the attachment suit of the Townsend Wholesale Grocery Co., against the Chamberlin Canning Co., of Kansas City. The Townsend Grocery Co. had received a shipment of tomatoes from the Canning Co., which the Grocery Company alleged was of inferior quality. The bill for more than $1,500 was partly paid, $1,000 being sent and the Grocery Company left a sight draft for the remainder at a local bank with an attachment. The Bank of Anderson, the interpleader in the suit, was asking judgment for the odd five hundred dollars which it claims is due it.

It was announced this morning that a motion for a new trial will be filed.

The replevin suit of Anna Gatton vs. the Bank of Guilford came up in court today. The following are members of the jury:

E. O. Gray, Lewis Rogers, John R. Evans, Orville Bennett, W. P. Nicholas, B. K. Furguson, A. J. Seyster, Everett Davis, Bert Hull, Paul Stalling, P. R. Growney and Albert Neidel. The suit is for possession of a mare and a pair of mules.

In the case of the State vs. Herman Skeels on a bogus check, the bond was ordered forfeited by Judge Dawson in court. The bond was for $200 and was signed by Skeels and his attorney, R. L. Minton of Mound City. They are to appear in court at the next term to show cause, if any they have, why said bond should not be forfeited.

TIME TO SELECT BREEDING PENS

POULTRY RAISERS IN COUNTY BUSY WITH FLOCKS

USE BEST INDIVIDUALS

Noel Hall of State Poultry Station, Mountain Grove, Gives Suggestions

This is the proper time of the year for poultry breeders in the county to start selecting the best from the flocks for the special breeding pens for this year. According to R. A. Kinnaird, county farm bureau agent, several poultry raisers in Nodaway County are now busy with their flocks

Mr. Kinnaird says the best way to breed up a flock is to have special breeding pens and to increase the flock each year by using only the very best individuals in the flock.

Mrs. Edwin Goodspeed, who lives southeast of Mayrville has picked out three dozen of the best pullets in her flock of chickens that will be mated with pedigreed cockerels. She has been assisted in this work by Mr. Kinnaird recently. Mrs. Goodspeed has a flock of Short Comb Rhode Island Reds.

Mr. and Mrs. John Morehouse of Hopkins fancy breeders of White Langshans, have been selecting the best of their flock for special breeding pens.

WALSH RESOLUTION PASSED BY SENATE

DIRECTS PRESIDENT TO START LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

WOULD CANCEL LEASES

President Coolidge Defends Denby and Directs Cabinet to "Stand by Guns"

Washington, Jan. 31 — Climaxing four days of heated debate, and ten days of sensational developments, the Senate this afternoon passed the Walsh resolution, declaring that the leasing of oil lands in California and Wyoming to Edward L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair was surrounded by "fraud and corruption", and directing President Coolidge to institute legal proceedings to cancel the leases made by Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior.

Just as the Senate was about to vote on the Walsh resolution, Senator Howell, Republican of Nebraska, proposed a substitution which would have President Coolidge immediately seize the lands leased to Doheny and Sinclair.

The Senate decided to vote first on the Walsh resolution and then on the Howell resolution after each author had spoken ten minutes. The vote was unanimous.

In addition to demanding that an ejection be sought immediately to stop further operations on Teapot Dome and Elk Hills oil reserves, the resolution authorized the employment of special attorneys to handle all of the litigations, independent of the department of justice. This provision was inserted, making it necessary for the Senate to formally approve the selection of Silas H. Strawn of Chicago, and Thomas W. Gregory of Texas, already named by the president to start proceedings against Sinclair and Doheny.

As soon as the Walsh resolution was adopted, the Senate took up the Robinson resolution demanding the resignation of Edwin Denby, Secretary of the Navy.

Washington, Jan. 31.—An effort by President Coolidge to persuade Democratic Senators to desist in their savage assaults on members of his cabinet, and to allow the oil lease mess to be cleared up by special government counsel and courts, failed today.

The President summoned Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, the relentless prosecutor of the Teapot Dome case, and Senator Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, who fathered the resolution demanding the resignation of the Secretary of the Navy, to the White House shortly before noon today.

They had a long conference with the Chief Executive but they said, after they left the White House, they would push the pending resolution to the utmost.

No sooner had the Senate met this afternoon than Senator Trammell, Democrat of Florida, ordered an amendment to the Robinson resolution declaring it to be "the sense of the Senate that the President immediately request the resignation of the Secretary of the Navy."

For a moment, it seemed there would be an immediate vote. The Republicans sat stunned.

The Senator Lodge, Republican leader, jumped to his feet and raised an objection which stopped the vote. Lodge declared he favored the Walsh resolution, which proposes immediate cancellation of the leases, but that he would oppose the Trammell amendment.

"This is a fool amendment," he shouted, his voice quivering with excitement. "It is unconstittuional because the Constitution provides only one method of removal of cabinet members, and that is by impeachment. There is an attempt to force the hand of the President to a duty which rests solely in him. I shall oppose it."

Lodge, however, condemned Denby, both for his conduct and for the oil leases, but added: "There has been no evidence produced at any time that the Secretary was other than an honest man. There is no proof of any wrongdoing and that he is guilty of anything more than having made a

HISTORY OF MARYVILLE HIGH SCHOOL DEBATING CLUB

The following history of the Debating Club of the Maryville High School was prepared by Stewart Tulloch, a senior, and member of the Debating Club:

The first debating club of the Maryville High School was organized in the autumn of 1921 by the history instructor, D. W. Burford. The purpose of this club was merely to prepare a team for the state and district debaters. The club adopted a constitution and elected Ellis Meek president.

The first debate was in the state contest with the Savannah team as opponent. After a series of elimination debates Ellis Meek and Townsend Godsey were chosen to defend the school honors. In this debate Maryville was defeated by a two to one decision of the judges which eliminated Maryville from the state debating league.

The Maryville team was victorious in its second debate, defeating Bolckow with Ellis Meek and Richard Baker, members of the team. By the graduation of Ellis Meek the team was badly handicapped but found an able substitute in Harold Moore. Maryville met Benton High School of St. Joseph in the third debate and was defeated. The loss of this debate eliminated the Green and White debaters from the Northwest Missouri Conference. The club membership the first year comprised seven students.

The debating club was again organized the latter part of September, 1922, this time sponsored by the English and history instructor, Miss Frances Holiday. The debating team of the school year 1922-23, was not as successful as the team of the previous year, as it did not win a single debate. However, more interest in forensics was aroused among the High School students these two semesters. The purpose of the organization was identical to that of the previous year until the end of the first semester when a change was made to promoting interest in debate and also public speaking.

Miss Louise Peery and Richard Baker represented the High School team. The officers for the first semester were: president, Harold Moore; vice-president, Louise Peery; and secretary-treasurer, Floyd Cook. The club was composed of twelve members. At this time the club did not have a regular time for meeting.

STRENGTHENING THE DEMOCRACY IN MISSOURI

Those friends of Senator James A. Reed who advised him to enter the presidential race on the assumption that it would benefit the Democratic party in Missouri, have a most extraordinary conception of what is good for the Democratic party. It used to be said that the more fights, the more Democrats, but that day has passed. If it were still alive, it would seem that Missouri has already been supplied to the saturation point.

This is the third successive biennial period in which the democracy of Missouri has been plunged into a bitter strife to gratify the passions of her senior senator. During this time the republicans have taken the administration of state affairs and still continue in power. These former fights are still fresh in the minds of the public and there is nothing to indicate that either Senator Reed or the Democratic majority in this state have changed in their views on the fundamental issues.

In 1920 he and the party in Missouri were so widely apart that he was not elected a delegate to the National Convention. In 1922, after one of the bitterest fights in the history of the state, he won. The votes of that campaign furnish an interesting study. Senator Reed won the nomination by a plurality of 5,942 votes out of a total of 395,947 cast. St. Louis city gave him a plurality of 26,355 and Kansas City gave him a plurality of 23,065. Outside the City of St. Louis and Kansas City, Reed received 122,187 votes and Long received 166,246 which means that Long carried the state of Missouri outside these two cities by a plurality of 43,478.

In the election that followed in the fall of 1922 Senator Reed was elected by 44,258 votes over Brewster, the Republican nominee, including the votes of St. Louis and St. Louis county. In the state of Missouri, outside of St. Louis and St. Louis county, Reed received a total of 389,096 and Brewster a total of 389,707, according to the official returns. Outside of St. Louis and St. Louis county therefore Brewster carried the state by 611 votes.

Lee, regular democratic nominee for state superintendent of schools, was also elected by a majority of 6,045 over the republican nominee but received 30,818 less votes in the city of St. Louis than did Senator Reed and nearly four thousand less in St. Louis county. On the other hand Jackson county, which includes Kansas City which gave such a big vote for Reed in the primaries, was lost by Reed in the fall election by 1,021 votes while Lee, the democratic nominee for superintendent of schools carried it by 5,406.

If this shows anything, it shows that there were many thousands of democrats who refused to vote for the senator even after he was nominated. Mr. Lee ran nearly 35,000 votes behind Reed in St. Louis and St. Louis county, and yet was elected by a plurality of 5,406 while Senator Reed, with the abnormal vote of St. Louis and St. Louis county, was elected by only 1,021 votes.

And again, the total vote cast for Lee in 1922, which may be taken as the normal democratic vote, was 488,883 while the vote for Cox for president in 1920 was 574,799, or 85,916 more than were cast for Lee. This means that 85,799 voters neglected or refused to vote in 1922 who did vote in 1920 and nobody believes that Cox received the full democratic vote in 1920. Assuming that all those who voted for Reed in 1922 in the City of St. Louis and St. Louis county were democrats, let's see what we have. Reed received a total vote of 506,267 as against 574,799 for Cox in 1920, or 68,532 less than Cox. If Cox was a weak man, how can Reed be strong in the face of these figures?

It is now only fifteen months since the election of 1922 and the embers of that campaign are still ready to be fanned into flame. The passions aroused have not had time to pass away. The issues are practically the same. Senator Reed still stands where he stood when the Democratic party refused to send him as a delegate to represent it in the national convention in 1920 and there is nothing to indicate that the democratic voters as a whole have changed their views. Indeed the country vote seems to have reaffirmed them in 1922, notwithstanding the Senator's election.

The greater issues before the country today are our foreign policy with respect to the establishment of a permanent peace through international accord and our national policy with respect to the eighteenth amendment and the enforcement of the laws. If Senator Reed and the Democratic party of Missouri were in practically unanimous agreement on these points, he would be strong and could go before the country with a united party behind him, which in turn would be good for the party, but they are not agreed.

Senator Reed stands where he has stood. In order for the party in Missouri to make him its standard bearer now and present him to the country as its representative and leader unitedly and enthusiastically, if it presents him at all, the party must abandon all it stood for in 1920 and 1922, repudiate its platforms and acts, and acknowledge that he and not the party was right. State pride makes a strong appeal to every man, but are the voters ready to abandon principle for pride? If they are ready to do that, he may be strong. If not, how can he be? Can they get properly behind a man who is not going in the direction they want to go?

it being called together whenever a necessity arose. However, after the beginning of the second semester the activity hour was introduced at the High School and this gave the club the necessary time which is required for the study of debate.

The second semester found the club with an increase in membership. The officers for this term of school were: president, Burdette Yeo; vice-president, Fred Street; and secretary-treasurer, Dorothy McCord.

The debating club for the first semester of the school year 1923-24 was organized the first of October. It was again placed under the sponsorship of Miss Frances Holiday. At the first meeting it was found that the club had a membership of fifteen, about half being new on the roster. The officers that were elected were: president, Burdette Yeo; vice-president, Esther Roseberry; and secretary-treasurer, Dorothy McCord. The club planned that it should study debate first and then all who desired could participate in the preliminaries. After a great deal of study and a little amusement the preliminaries were held and it was decided that the four best debaters should debate in order to select the two members for the team. Laura Margaret Raines, Esther Roseberry, Katherine Keplar and Edwyna Forsyth contested. The Misses Esther Roseberry and Edwyna Forsyth were chosen, the other two being placed on the second team. From this time on the club has made remarkable progress. It had its own programs interwoven with outside speakers who have pointers about debate. The members of the club bought pins with M. D. C., 1924, engraved thereon.

During the first semester the club put on a party and entertained the Dramatics Club and the members of the faculty. The party proved to be a big success. The faculty and Dramatics Club each put on a stunt and the debating club held a mock trial.

The debating club accepted the challenge of Loren Schnabel who issued the statement that the members of the High School orchestra had a better average scholastic standing than any other organization in the High School. When the grades of the two societies were tabulated it was found that the debating club stood in the lead.

At the last meeting of the first semester the following officers were elected for the present semester: Dorothy McCord, president, taking the place of Burdette Yeo who was graduated this month; vice-president, Esther Roseberry; and secretary-treasurer, Clement Rickman. The club is now canvassing for more members.

The year 1923-24 has been a success so far, even though the debating team lost a debate to Harmony. The second debate with Barnard, was won. This is the first year for either of the members of the debating club in public debates. The team is composed of Edwyna Forsyth, a freshman, and Esther Roseberry, a beginning senior.

How Milk is Consumed

There are in the United States, 30,000,000 head of dairy cattle giving 11½ billion gallons of milk annually. 45.7 per cent is consumed as milk and cream for household uses; 22.4 per cent manufactured into creamery butter; 13.8 per cent is made into farm butter; 4.3 per cent fed to calves, chickens and pigs; 3.7 per cent condensed milk; 3.6 per cent is made into cheese; 3.4 per cent is made into ice cream; 3.1 per cent for miscellaneous uses, with a part of this wasted, according to the Dairy Division of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture as quoted by State Dairy Commissioner E. G. Bennett in his official report to the 1924 meeting of the Missouri State Board of Agriculture.

TIME TO SELECT BREEDING PENS

During the recent cold weather, many chicken in Missouri suffered from frosted combs. Noel Hall of the Missouri State Poultry Experiment Station, Mountain Grove, gives the following suggestions:

It is true that combs will not frost in well protected poultry houses, but usually such freezing or frosting is caused by drafts in the poultry house or by allowing the birds to become too warm and steamy at night and then turn them out into the cold the next morning. In either case the temperature is changed suddenly and the combs and wattles become frosted.

Modern houses which are free from drafts and provide the same temperature night and morning for the birds practically eliminate frosted combs. It is also a good plan to give the birds snow or finely cracked ice in extremely cold weather. Water—especially warm water, has a tendency to cause the wattles to freeze unless given in fountains that will prevent the wattles from becoming wet while the birds are drinking.

Immediate treatment consists of applying snow or cold water to frozen parts. After being thawed out in this manner, valseline should be applied to the frosted parts at least daily for a week. If the comb has been frosted for several days, apply some good salve daily until the frozen parts slough off. Care should be taken to see that the other fowls do not pick the frosted parts. In case the combs and wattles start bleeding, the birds should be removed from the flock.

MARYVILLE GIRLS PLAY ON FOREIGN COURT TOMORROW

WILL BE HANDICAPPED

Green and Black Team Has Lost Only Two Games this Season—Second at Blanchard Tourney

Maryville High School girls' basketball team will play the Parnell cage team Friday night at the Parnell High Schol gymnasium. Mrs. Virgil Rathbun, coach, said today that in spite of the fact that the team will be handicapped by the absence of Meria Williams, who will not be able to play on account of sickness, that she fully expects the girls to come home with the long end of the score.

According to Mrs. Rathbun the members of the team are in as good a condition as they have been this season. Laura Margaret Raines and Mildred New have had the most experience, having three years to her credit. Dorothy Dow and Captain Murry are at their third year of the game. Marie Chandler, who is holding down a guard position, is playing her first year on the first team and has shown up exceedingly well. C. Keplar, who entered here in the fall from Pattonsburg, is holding down the other guard position. C. Wright and H. Frede are also on the squad this year. Puckett seems to be showing up good for her first year's experience.

Captain Murry and Mildred New make a strong combination at the center section on both the offensive and the defensive. L. M. Raines and Dorothy Dow have acquired quite an eye for the basket, as was shown in the Blanchard tournament when they rolled up a total score of 173 to opponents 51 in the three games. The guards on the Green and Black team this year are newly developed but are performing like veterans.

As to the strength of the Parnell sextet it might be said that it carried off the championship at the girls' outdoor tournament at the College the past fall. The center and guard sections are the strongholds of the team.

Up to the present date the Maryville girls have defeated the Hopkins girls 13 to 6, played a tie with Burlington Junction and won second place in the Blanchard tournament.

The preliminay game, the Cubs against the Pickering High School team will start at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Sam Dubin of Bedford, Ia., will referee tonight. The Cape Girardeau quintet will play here again tomorrow night.

Raines, Captain McNeel, E. Raines, Cook, Thompson, Pierpoint, Hardwick, and Hood.

Many Buildings Being Built in Missouri Now

Big Business Expansion Program is Under Way in State— Dawes Makes Statement

Brigadier General Charles A. Dawes, U. S. A., chairman of the first committee of experts appointed by the Reparation Commission to consider the resources and capacity of Germany looking to a solution of the reparations problem, delivered a straight-forward, hard-hitting speech at the opening session of that body. With characteristic forcefulness, General Dawes denounced "the incessant misrepresentations and intolerable interjections of those foul and carrion-loving vultures — the nationalistic demagogues of all countries —who would exploit their pitiful personalities out of a common misfortune." The American plan which was briefly outlined by the chairman, consists of stabilization of German currency and balancing the German budget and, he declared: "As the economic processes of Germany under a stable currency and with a balanced budget are revived, there will be demonstrated the capacity of Germany to pay." Thus does a business program begin to take form which will assure increased industrial activity and employment the world over.

The following buildings are now under construction in Missouri, according to the report of the state industrial commission.

Louisiana—New building for Home Bank of Louisiana completed.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

EVERY STREET IN MARYVILLE

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Sufferers Seek

Backache? Kidneys weak?
Distressed with urinary ills,
Want a reliable kidney remedy?

Don't have to look far. Use what Maryville people recommend. Every street in Maryville has its cases.

Here's one Maryville man's experience.

Let Louis Anderson, 804 N. Walnut St., tell it. He says: "I had a bad fall which left by back in poor condition. I suffered for some time from dull pains which caught me in the small of my back and my back was lame and sore. I felt miserable and worn out and was hardly able to be about. I read of Doan's Pills in a local paper and purchased some. The first box brought great relief and after I had taken three boxes I was cured of the attack. I highly recommend Doan's Pills."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Anderson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

TIPS FOR TAXPAYERS

NO. 21

Income from dividends form a considerable item in the aggregation income of many taxpayers. A dividend, for the purposes of the income-tax law, is any distribution, whether in cash or property, made by a corporation to its stockholders or members out of its earnings or profits accumulated since February 28, 1913.

A dividened is income to the stockholder as of the date when the cash or property is unqualifiedly made subject to his demand. For example, a corporation may declare a dividend payable December 30, 1922, for which the stockholder did not receive his check until January 1923. The dividend is a part of his 1922 income.

Dividends received by an individual stockholder are exempt from the normal tax, but subject to the surtax, the reason being that the corporation which declares the dividend is subject to the normal tax on earnings out of which it is paid. Accordingly, dividends must be included in gross income, but they may be deducted as a credit in computing the normal tax.

Dividends or interest not in excess of $300 received by individuals during the years 1922 to 1926, inclusive, from domestic building and loan associations, operated exclusively for the purpose of making loans to members, are exempt from both normal and surtax.

NODAWAY COUNTY LEADS IN CATTLE

ACCORDING TO REPORT OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT

MANY CATTLE ON HAND

On January 1, Missouri Farmers Had 9,754,000 Head of Livestock —Hogs on Decrease

The farmers of Nodaway County estimate that on January 1, they had the following live stock of all ages on their farms: 16,980 horses, ,3,880 mules, 10,470 milk cows, 49,760 other cattle, 21,410 sheep, and 143,130 hogs. These figures have been checked against railroad shipments, reecipts at stock yards, and county assessment returns.

Nodaway County leads the other counties in the state in the number of horses, of milk cows and other cattle, and in the number of hogs.

Jefferson City, Jan. 31. — Missouri farmers had on hand January 1, 1924, a total of 9,754,000 head of live stock, compared to 9,826,000 last year, and the value was $208,361,000 against $215,047,000 last year, according to E. A. Logan and Jewell Mayes of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics and Missouri State Board of Agriculture. The tendency during the past year has been towards decreasing hogs, mules and horses, and increasing milk cows, stock cattle and sheep.

Horses totaled 861,00 on January 1 at $48 per head or $41,328,000, compared to 870,000 at $52 per head or $45,240,000 last year. Horses have been decreasing in numbers for several years, and the natural deaths and ordinary sales have not been made good by raising colts. Breeding costs and feed prices are too high for horse values at maturity. Farm sales have been very slow, and few horses are selling.

Missouri mules number 369,000 at $63 per head or $23,247,000 compared to 373,000 at $63 totaling $23,499,000 last year. Slow sales and low prices have decreased the raising of mules. Shipments out of the state have not been made up by the breeding operations. Good work mules command better prices ,and are easier sold than horses. Prices are now better than for some months, due to demands in the cotton producing sections.

Milk cows number 793,000 at $46 per head, valued at $36,478,000 compared to 777,000 at $45 per head totaling $34,965,000 last year. Milk cows have shown an increase each year during the past three years. Throughout the state an increase is noted in dairying. Jerseys and Holsteins in many places are taking the place of beef breeds. During the past year or two, dairy cows and poultry have been most popular on Missouri farms. The tendency at present in nearly all sections is to increase dairy stock.

"Other cattle" total 2,063,000, averaging $29,20 per head, or $60,240,000, compared to 2,003,000 at $28,70 totaling $57,486,000 last year. Throughout the southern counties, on account of two years' drouth, stock cattle have generally decreased. In many of the northern counties, stock cattle show an increase and shipments to the country from stockyards were larger in 1923 than previous year. Cattle feeding shows less activity than last January, but some increases are noted in heavy corn producing counties. Considerable tendency is shown to shift to dairying and poultry, that the farmers may do their own work. A few counties in the northeast have more cattle on hand, due to failure in moving stock to feeding areas.

Missouri sheep number 1,205,000 head, averaging $7.60, valued at $9,158,000, compared to 1,105,000 at $7.10 totaling $7,846,000 last January. During 1923 an increased number of breeding stock was shipped in, and a considerable number of home raised sheep was retained on farms. Shipments from Missouri farms to market have been less for the past two years than for each previous one. Good prices for wool and mutton are strong influences toward keeping more sheep. More lambs were fed on Missouri farms last fall than in 1922.

Hogs of all ages on Missouri farms total 4,463,000, valued at $8.50 per head or $37,910,000, against 4,698,000 at $9,80 or $46,011,000 last year. Farmers quite generally consider feeding of hogs a losing game at prevailing corn prices. More brood sows have been sold than for some time, and farmers are cutting down on hog production. The prospect is for a much lighter spring pig crop than last year. The southern counties with two poor corn crops show very heavy reduction, but a few northern counties with a big corn crop show an increased supply over last year. Hog cholera has been prevalent in restricted small areas in many counties of the state.

very serious mistake, or, if you prefer, lack of competence."

(Copyright 1924 International News).

Washington, Jan. 31.—President Coolidge will not permit Edwin Denby, Secretary of the Navy, to resign from the cabinet under fire, it was said by those who have conferred with him in the last twenty-four hours. Neither will he accept the resignation of Harry M. Daugherty, Attorney General, at this time.

Both Denby and Daugherty, it was learned today, have informally suggested to the President that they would retire if such action would help to allay attacks by Senatorial accusers which, in any way, might fasten blame and responsibility directly or indirectly upon Mr. Coolidge in the naval oil reserve lease scandal.

The President has told his cabinet officers they must stand by their guns and he will back them.

This decision was made following numerous conferences between the President and members of the cabinet being assailed by Democrats, in connection with the leases. Conferences, immediately summoned after the introduction of resolutions in the Senate demanding removal of Denby and Daugherty, have been held quietly and many have been extended far into the night.

Several reasons have actuated the President in forming his decision not to permit his official family to be shaken in the face of the oratorical bombs hurled from capitol hill, it was said.

Paramount is that administration chieftains feel the question whether Denby acted without authority or in violation of laws of Congress in assisting in the execution of leases to Harry M. Sinclair and Edwin Doheny, will be decided in court not from the capital. This statement was made despite the action of the Senate in rejecting the Lenroot amendment to the Walsh resolution which would have stricken out the charges that Denby and Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, were without authority to execute the leases.

That, a spokesman for the President said today, is a judicial not a legislative decision, especially as the counsel appointed by Coolidge is going into court for a determination upon that very point regarded as the basis of the fight upon the validity of the leases.

Mrs. Eilzabeth Clayton Dies Last Evening

Succumbs to Extended Illness of Complication of Diseases—Funeral Services this Afternoon

Mrs. Elizabeth Clayton died about 7 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. M. Hughes, 220 West Jenkins street, following an extended illness of a complication of diseases. She had been failing in health for more than two years and since last November her condition had been serious.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Hughes home conducted by Dr. C. C. James of the First Methodist Church. A quartette from the choir of the Presbyterian Church sang "Faith Of Our Fathers" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere". The body, accompanied by a son, Guy D. Clayton of Greeley, Colo., who arrived in Maryville yesterday morning, and Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, will be taken to Mrs. Clayton's former home in El Dorado, Kan., this afternoon for burial.

Elizabeth Duncan was born on April 12, 1847, near Erie, Pa. in early years she moved with the family to Whiteside county, Ill., where she was educated and taught school. Of a family of seven children there is but one sister, Mrs. Sarah Clayton of Kankakee, Ill., now living.

On August 3, 1867, she and Alfred Clayton were united in marriage. To this union five children were born, Frank, whose death occurred two years ago; Mrs. Mary Hughes of Maryville; Arthur of El Dorado, Kan. Olive, who died in 1913; and Guy Clayton of Greeley, Colo. Her husband passed away October 16, 1909, and since that time Mrs. Clayton had made her home with her daughter in Maryville .

Born of a rugged, industrious Scotch ancestry of the Covenanter faith, and the pioneer life on the plains of Illinois, developed the strong, beautiful character that has moulded the family life. A devoted mother, a conscientious Christian woman, a sympathetic and understanding friend, her earthly journey was completed at the age of 76 years, 9 months and 18 days. Mrs. Clayton is survived by fifteen grandchildren and four great grandchildren.
